Pope John 23rd Receives Crown At St. Peter's

200,000 Persons
Crowd Great Square
To View Ceremonies

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII was crowned today in glittering medieval ceremonies investing him as the 262nd spiritual ruler of the Roman Catholic Church.

A mighty roar went up from some 200,000 persons in the great square of St. Peter's at the climactic moment in the coronation of the successor to Pope Pius XII.

Nicola Cardinal Canali, aged 60, dean of the College of Cardinals, placed the beehive-shaped tiara of jewel-encrusted gold on the head of the shaven-rooper's son from a little north Italian village.

There were more than four hours of impressive religious rites inside the vast basilica of St. Peter's.

The coronation took place on the same central balcony overlooking the square on which Pope John made his first appearance a week ago today after his election by the College of Cardinals.

Pomp Ceremony Mustered

All the pomp and ceremony of the Roman Catholic Church were mustered for the coronation rites. But there was humility, too, in the presence of the pontiff's family. Three brothers, a sister and numerous nephews and nieces were present, dressed in black peasant Sunday best. They watched in awe, weeping with emotion, as their kinsman, the former Angelo Giuseppe Cardinal Roncalli, went through the coronation ceremony.

Through it all the 76-year-old former patriarch of Venice remained serene, often smiling benignly. His voice throughout the long mass and his greetings to the Catholic hierarchy of the world remained clear and resonant.

The crowd began to roar as 84-year-old Cardinal Canali took the crown in his hands and prepared to place it on the pontiff's head. The pontiff adjusted the crown himself and looked solemnly out into the crowd.

Crowd Remained Silent

The Pope rose slowly and chanted his "urbi et orbi" — the traditional blessing of the pontiff to the City of Rome and the world. The crowd remained silent throughout his recitation.

For the first time in history, millions of West Europeans witnessed the coronation of a pope through the agency of television.

The Pope slowly made the sign of the Cross in several directions at the end, and after the "amen," the crowd thundered wildly, shouting "Viva il Papa" — Long Live the Pope — over and over.

Mingling in the roar, the great campanone, the master bell of St. Peter's began to toll, and the lesser bells of Rome's churches took up the carol of triumph.

More than 50,000 persons had jammed the vast reaches of St. Peter's Basilica for the solemn Pontifical Mass and other religious rites which preceded the outdoor coronation.

St. Peter's was resplendent with

Ohio Highway Patrol Captures 3 Fugitives

IRONTON, Ohio (AP) — Two West Virginia brothers and a Kentuckian, wanted in their states on theft charges, were arrested near here early today.

The Ohio Highway Patrol said the capture of the trio came after a brief chase that started when the men failed to stop their car for a routine check.

The men were identified as Jesse James Thompson, 29, and his brother, Henry Lee, 26, both of Huntington, W. Va., and Edward Dagnan, 29, of Rt. 1, Whitesburg, Ky.

They were taken into custody at the Coal Grove, Ohio-Ashland, Ky. bridge east of here by Highway patrolmen, Lawrence County sheriff's deputies and Ironton police.

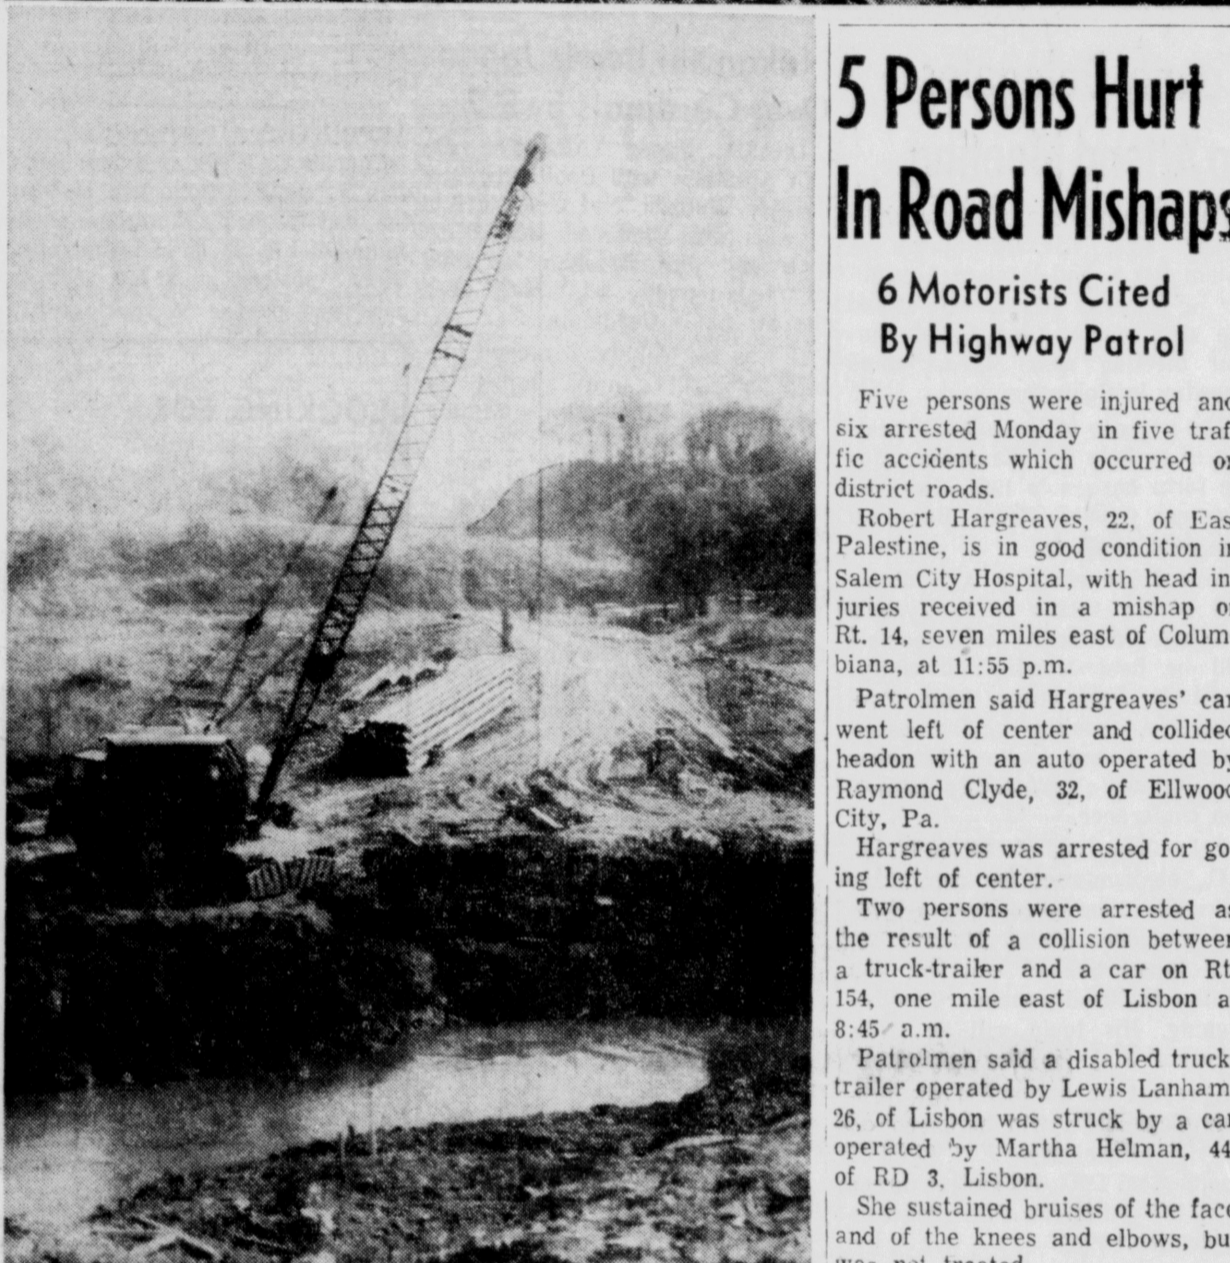

Officers said a warrant charging auto theft was on file against Dagnan in Letcher County, Ky. The Thompson brothers had been sought by Huntington police in connection with a safe theft. Henry Lee Thompson also was free on bond on a robbery charge.

Both Thompsons were described as ex-convicts.

Jesse Thompson was lodged in city jail here and the other were taken to county jail.

Democratic Gains Predicted

48 Million Americans Are Expected to Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — An estimated 48 million Americans cast ballots today in voting which may produce some spectacular overruns in governorships — notably in New York and California — as well as upheavals in Senate and House contests.

Democrats aimed at a record in Senate gains to eclipse the 12-seat gain they made in 1952.

Republicans, ducking a barrage of contrary predictions, still talked hopefully of a last-hour rescue by the voters from what looked like a possibly devastating string of congressional defeats stretching from coast to coast.

Final soundings of grass root opinion appeared to point to Democratic gains of from 8 to 12 Senate seats, including that wrested from GOP Sen. Frederick G. Payne by Gov. Edmund S. Muskie in Maine's September election. This did not take into account Alaska's two seats, to be filled Nov. 25.

Now Outnumber Republicans
Democrats now outnumber Senate Republicans 49-47. With Muskie's vote they need only to hold their own in today's contests to have the required 50 majority after Alaska adds its two.

Test readings from around the country showed the Democrats might pick up from 17 to 40 House seats and possibly more. But if

5 Persons Hurt In Road Mishaps

6 Motorists Cited
By Highway Patrol

Five persons were injured and six arrested Monday in five traffic accidents which occurred on district roads.

Robert Hargreaves, 22, of East Palestine, is in good condition in Salem City Hospital, with head injuries received in a mishap on Rt. 14, seven miles east of Columbiana, at 11:55 p.m.

Patrolmen said Hargreaves' car went left of center and collided headon with an auto operated by Raymond Clyde, 32, of Ellwood City, Pa.

Two persons were arrested as the result of a collision between a truck-trailer and a car on Rt. 154, one mile east of Lisbon at 8:45 a.m.

Patrolmen said a disabled truck-trailer operated by Lewis Lanham, 26, of Lisbon was struck by a car operated by Martha Helman, 44, of RD 3, Lisbon.

She sustained bruises of the face and of the knees and elbows, but was not treated.

She was arrested for failing to stop in the assured clear distance ahead. Lanham was cited for failing to display warning signals.

Two Youngstown men were treated by an East Palestine physician after their car struck a pig enclosure on Rt. 154, three miles east of Rogers, at 11:45 a.m.

Raymond Larsick, 44, the driver, sustained abrasions of the forehead and bumps on the head and his passenger, Eugene Larsick, 23, suffered contusions of the lower legs and abrasions of the head and legs.

Patrolmen said Larsick's car went off the right side of the road

$537 In Tools Stolen At Highlandtown

LISBON — The theft of power equipment valued at $537 from the Ohio Department of Wildlife building at the Highlandtown game preserve on the Ismond farm near Highlandtown was reported today by Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan.

Thieves entered the building between 6 p.m. Saturday and 2 p.m. Monday, the sheriff said.

Howard Hothem, caretaker, reported the burglars stole two electric saws, a vise, electric drill, drill stand, bench grinder, hole tool box with assorted tools, a propane torch and a fire extinguisher.

Another 1956 repeat occurs in Ohio. But this time Democrat Michael V. DiSalle is given an even or better chance of whipping his opponent of two years ago, Republican incumbent C. William O'Neill.

Presbyterians Plan Reception

Anna Cook, Organist 42 Years, To Be Feted

Miss Anna P. Cook, who recently retired as organist of the Presbyterian Church, played during worship services, weddings and other special occasions for 42 years.

A reception in Miss Cook's honor will be held Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in the church's Fellowship Hall. The program is being planned by the church music committee headed by Raymond Stiver.

"Like my ancestors," Miss Cook proudly stated, "I have been a Presbyterian all my life." Miss Cook and her sister, Bessie, the daughters of Archibald and Bessie Cook, reside in the family home at 311 S. Lincoln Ave., where they were born.

Miss Cook attended Columbia Street grade school and was graduated from Salem High School.

32 Governors To Be Elected Across Nation

Rockefeller Favored
To Beat Harriman in New York's Contest

WASHINGTON (AP) — Any remaining White House ambitions of two of the nation's better known political figures reach the boost-or-break stage today as 32 states elect governors.

The two, Democrat Averell Harriman of New York and Republican William F. Knowland of California, have sought their parties' presidential nominations in past years. Both insist they are now seeking only to be governor.

In their current races, both are rated by pollsters and political observers as underdogs — Harriman considerably less so than Knowland.

Battle of Millionaires

In what has come to be dubbed the Battle of the Millionaires, Republican Nelson A. Rockefeller is rated a slight favorite to unseat Harriman.

In California, the Democrats say they are confident that their candidate, Atty. Gen. Edmund G. Brown, will trounce Knowland. Polls support that view.

A victory for either Knowland or Harriman automatically would rank him a potent prospect as a presidential candidate. That also would be true of their opponents if they win.

Although this is his first bid for elective office, Rockefeller already is regarded — if he wins today — as a possible contender with Vice President Nixon for the GOP presidential nomination in 1960.

Another gubernatorial race with presidential overtones is in Michigan. Gov. G. Mennen Williams, seeking an unprecedented sixth term, was favored to defeat Republican Paul D. Bagwell. The extent of Williams' expected victory could affect his prospects in the 1960 Democratic National Convention.

Lively races also are in prospect in some other states electing governors today.

In addition to New York, the Republicans contend they have a good chance to oust Democrats from governorships in traditionally Republican Iowa and Kansas and from the onetime GOP stronghold of Oregon.

And the GOP has practically staked claim to little Rhode Island where Republican Christopher Del Sesto is trying again to unseat Democratic Gov. Dennis J. Roberts.

Del Sesto, after apparently winning two years ago, was edged out by Roberts in a bitter court fight over absentee ballots. The Republicans now are calling for Del Sesto's "re-election."

Another 1956 repeat occurs in Ohio. But this time Democrat Michael V. DiSalle is given an even or better chance of whipping his opponent of two years ago, Republican incumbent C. William O'Neill.

Former Premier Heavy Favorite

Aguero Is Winner In Cuban Balloting

HAVANA (AP) — Former Premier Andres Rivero Aguero has won election by a wide margin to succeed his political sponsor, President Fulgencio Batista, in complete returns showed today.

A light turnout and bloodshed marked the heavily guarded balloting in the revolt-torn nation Monday, but lopsided early figures from the four-man race indicated a landslide for Rivero Aguero.

Unofficial tabulations from 3,717 — or 43 per cent — of the island's 8,521 precincts gave: Rivero Aguero 439,991 votes; Carlos Marquez Sterling 100,528; former President Ramon Gau San Martin 68,649; Alberto Salas Amaro 7,754.

Returns were lacking on other races. But government quarters expressed belief most of their candidates for the Senate, House, six governorships and 126 mayoralties were being swept into office with Rivero Aguero.

Apathy, Fear Are Factors
Hundreds of thousands of the nation's 2,870,000 eligible voters — perhaps as many as 60 per cent — stayed away from the polls. Apathy and fear were factors.

Rebel leader Fidel Castro had called for a boycott. With eight candidates killed during the campaigning, Castro threatened death

Home Instruction Teacher Approved

H. F. Wykoff to Retire As School Board Clerk

H. F. Wykoff, clerk-treasurer of the Salem Board of Education, will make official his resignation at the end of the year.

Wykoff said at Monday evening's regular November meeting of the board, that his resignation has been "more or less understood" and that he wishes to be "free to travel."

The board expressed appreciation of the work done by Mr. Wykoff in the year he has held the clerk-treasurer position. Wykoff's term expires Dec. 31.

In other board business, Mrs. Lena Lewis of the Albany Rd. was approved as home instruction teacher at a salary of $4,500 per year. Mrs. Lewis will instruct students who, because of sickness, cannot attend regular classes.

McKinley School will purchase an electric duplicating machine, it was reported. Half of the cost will be paid by the PTA, and the school board will bear the remaining cost.

Robert H. Freeman, vice president of the Freeman Construction Co., was present at the board meeting.

Two applications were received by the Civil Service Commission Monday to fill the vacant post of police chief created by the September death of former chief George T. Earley.

Applications were submitted by Capt. Howard Forney, acting chief, and by Lt. Martin Lutsch.

Roy W. Harris, commission clerk, reports they are the only two men eligible to take the test. The examinations will be given Thursday at 7:30 p.m. at city hall.

Burglars Steal $312 At Huber Store Here

Huber Automotive Parts at 451 E. Pershing St. was burglarized of $312 between 4:45 p.m. Saturday and 7:30 a.m. Monday, police reported today.

Howard Sunderman, an employee at Huber's, discovered the theft when he opened the store for business Monday morning.

The thieves discarded the money bag which had contained the cash. Police said the intruders apparently entered the store by forcing the lock on the rear door.

1,756 Ballots Cast In City, 309 In Township

Voters Spurred
By Ideal Weather,
Right-to-Work Issue

Salem voters are swarming to the polls today in heavy numbers, a noontime check of the city's 20 polling places revealed. A total of 1,756 had cast ballots by midday in the city, and 309 in Perry Township.

This compares with the noontime totals of 1,155 and 138, respectively, recorded in the last off-year election in 1954. A total of 2,107 city and township ballots was cast here in 1950, also an off-year election.

The record noon vote here was tabulated in the presidential election of 1952 when 2,889 voted in the city and 392 in Perry Township.

Balloting also appears to be heavy in rural districts. East precinct in Salem Township near Franklin Square, for example, had 75 votes cast by 10 a.m., only 15 short of the full day's tally a year ago.

Elsewhere in the state a record-breaking number of voters in an off-year election are swarming to the polls.

Spurred by perfect weather and a hot right-to-work issue, voters were reported waiting in lines in some polling places. Secretary of State Ted W. Brown, in Cleveland watching operation of voting machines, said it appears his earlier forecast of 3,450,000 votes "is too low."

He said that based on reports he has received, 70 per cent of Ohio's 5,200,000 eligible voters may cast ballots — putting the figure up to 3,640,000.

Below are shown the ballot totals in Salem precincts and Perry Twp. as compared with 1954, the last off-year election, and the record election in 1952.

Wards One, Three and Four were split up into additional precincts in 1953, accounting for the blank spaces in the 1952 column above.

The county's 151 polling places opened at 6:30 this morning and will close at 6:30 tonight.

The returns are expected to be late tonight because of the heavy vote, plus the large number of ballots in use in most subdivisions. The County Election Board completed the unofficial count at 3:40 the morning after the 1952 presidential election, when the county cast its all-time record vote. In 1956, the count was completed at 4:15 a.m., with the top of the ticket contests tabulated at 2:30.

Complying with instructions from Secretary of State Ted W. Brown, the board will make the first count tonight on the top of the ticket races — from governor down through U. S. Senator and district congressman, the non-partisan judicial ballot and the two proposed state constitutional amendments.

The second section of the count will be comprised of the district and county ticket from state senator through clerk of courts, the county bond issue and the general health district levy, then any local questions and issues.

BOARD PAYS BILLS

The board also approved the installation of a new hot water system at the cafeteria of Negley School.

Piqua Man to Face Bad Check Charges

WOODBURY, N. J. (AP)—D. Omer Tobias, 57, Ohio antique collector accused of taking $375,000 of his employer's money to indulge his hobby, will be sent home to face embezzlement charges later this week.

He waived a hearing before U.S. Commissioner Joseph Mennite here today. The commissioner continued bail at $50,000 and returned Tobias to Camden where he will remain in jail until he leaves for Ohio.

Tobias, a bachelor, was arrested by the FBI last Tuesday in the 100 - N. J. hotel.

He is charged specifically with transporting a check for $5,250.50 from Troy, Ohio, to New York and back again.

The check, the FBI said, is one of many drawn on the Hobart Manufacturing Co. of Troy. It has suffered a heart attack last May 25 and entered the hospital charged that Tobias fraudulently endorsed and deposited the checks in his account in a New York bank. Tobias was a clerk for the company and lived in Piqua, near Troy.

Appraisers, who went through his nine-room house after the embezzlements were disclosed, found the place crammed from basement to attic with valuable antiques. Tobias, himself, said the collection was worth several hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Balloting Finished in New Hampshire Town

WATERVILLE, N. H. (AP) — This tiny community in central New Hampshire today was the first in the nation to report election results.

Its tabulations were completed a few minutes after midnight after the town's 22 voters cast ballots at the home of Town Clerk Wendell Stevenson.

The vote for governor was 15 for Republican candidate Wesley Powell, six for his Democratic opponent, Bernard L. Boutin, and one blank.

On the rest of the ballot, the voters went solidly Republican, except for two votes cast for a Democratic candidate for the Governor's Council.

All 13 ballots cast in Waterville in 1956 went to Republican gubernatorial candidate Lane Dwinell and the rest of the GOP ticket.

Right behind Waterville in the completion of vote tabulations was Ellsworth, N.H., which had hoped to be the first in the nation — except that the ballot clerk there overslept.

In Ellsworth, all 12 votes went to Powell and Rep. Perkins Bass (R-NH), shutting out Boutin and Democratic House candidate Stuart V. Nims.

Ellsworth usually votes straight Republican. It gave all 12 votes to Eisenhower in 1956.

Spending for Children

It's Your Pocketbook

By FAYE HENLE
How did Betsy get her hula hoop?
How did Tommy get his?
I've made a survey in my neighborhood and in only a single instance did I discover that a small chap — a 5-year-old — bought his hula hoop out of the pennies he earned making his bed, three pennies a day.
Hula Hoops become a fad. Our kids want 'em. We buy 'em. Shouldn't children become conscious of the value of dollars and cents? At what age does this happen?
This is what I asked Allen M.

Thomas, for the past 12 years director of the Graham School, Hastings-on-the-Hudson, one of this country's oldest orphanages.
Since the Graham School's aim is to simulate home life as closely as possible and since Thomas has used his money-handling philosophy with his own four children, I'm passing his tips on to you with the promise that this is the way I intend to rule my roost.

THERE IS NO PAT ANSWER as to when children are ready to understand the value of money and how to handle it. Yet the desire to own things, more things and better things develops early.

Preschool ears appear none too early to allow a child to share in the family's wealth by offering a token allowance that becomes the child's very own to do with as he chooses. However, at this time you begin to teach a child to save for something. Without a goal, warns Thomas, saving becomes meaningless.

The day will dawn, he promises, when your youngster will have spent his pennies and will want more — more even than the amount he can and should be earning additional to his allowance. If he's old enough to understand, here is here you begin teaching him to use credit!

"If you are convinced his need is urgent and he can give you a repayment plan," Thomas says, "advance the money."

Our economy is largely based on credit. The earlier we teach our children to use credit intelligently the better, he insists.

County Jail Statistics Are Issued by Sheriff

Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan reports 51 persons were imprisoned in the county jail at Lisbon during October, in addition to the 33 already confined as of Oct. 1.

Forty-six prisoners were released during the month, three were conveyed to state institutions and six mental patients were taken to state hospitals.

A total of 3,418 meals was served at the jail during the month at a cost of $1,027.07 or an average daily cost for a prisoner of 90 cents per day.

Sheriff VanFossan reports 188 papers were served, and 5,238 radio transmissions were handled, along with 1,116 phone calls.

There were 211 visitors at the jail last month.

The sheriff's office in the Court-house accepted 38 sets of fox feet for bounty during the month, and collected fees totaling $471.67.

Guarding Your Health

By DR. EDWIN P. JORDAN

Low Blood Pressure May Mean Long Life

I am constantly amazed by the number of people who write me in great concern over being told that they have low blood pressure. This condition is really not a disease and rarely a symptom of anything serious, but somehow or another people get greatly alarmed about it. Mrs. L., for example, asks what the symptoms are, whether it is dangerous, and how it can be overcome.

Actually there are extremely few diseases which are definitely associated with lower than normal blood pressure. Most of these, however, are relatively uncommon and can usually be identified without great difficulty.

ORDINARILY, low blood pressure is a matter of little concern from the health standpoint. There does seem to be general agreement that low blood pressure of itself, unless definitely tied to some physical abnormality — and this is the exception — is likely to be accompanied by a long life and generally above-average health.

There are only a few exceptions: One rare condition known as Addison's disease is characterized, among other symptoms, by low blood pressure.

There is another condition in which low blood pressure appears off and on, known as carotid sinus syncope. Sudden pressure on the neck or sudden motion of the head may bring on an attack of low blood pressure together with other symptoms, but this is not the type of low blood pressure in which most readers are interested.

Occasionally, a person will have a drop in blood pressure when moving to a standing one, and this may require some attention. It goes under the tongue-twisting name of orthostatic hypotension.

It is hard to say whether there are any symptoms which can be blamed on low blood pressure and nothing else. Certainly some people who have low blood pressure complain of lack of pep or some other vague symptom, but this is just as likely to arise in the mind as it is from the blood pressure.

Even if the blood pressure should have something to do with such complaints, there is not much which can be done about it. Medical men lack any good, safe way to raise the blood pressure and it is better left alone unless some condition is present which should be treated on its own account.

LOW BLOOD PRESSURE causes a great deal of unnecessary worry. With only a few exceptions the person with below-normal pressure can feel lucky and need not do anything about it.

As one prominent physician wrote on the subject of low blood pressure — "the patient may be congratulated."

There Is No News from Budapest

Hindsight has made clear what no one could see or wanted to see two years ago, just before the Soviet Union, on Nov. 4, 1956, crushed the Hungarian rebellion.

The rebellion left the Soviet Union no choice. Having no choice, it had no compunctions about doing what it had to do. In one of the most overwhelming demonstrations ever made of military tanks and automatic weapons to put down insurrection, it simply wiped out the Hungarian rebellion.

There was nothing else it could do. Anyone who dreamed the Kremlin might be willing to do something else under the circumstances was guilty of irresponsible reasoning. For the same reason that he who shoots at a king must kill him, the Hungarian rebel had to be able to destroy 5,000 tanks and 200,000 well armed Red soldiers if they expected to get rid of the Russian occupation forces.

Two years after the rebellion and its terrible repercussions it is evident that nothing but wishful thinking ever supported the illusion that teen-agers with a pickup arsenal and courage to spare could do anything more than infuriate the best organized and most effective military force in Europe.

It was a memorable a foolhardy and an inspiring demonstration of raw bravery and gallant foolhardiness. But it was fated to failure and, worse, disaster. If left the Soviet Union no choice but to react as violently as it could to prove its power—and that looms as large in hindsight as the Hungarian rebellion loomed at its climax two years ago.

On Nov. 4, 1956, the blow fell and there has been no exciting, no reassuring, news from Budapest since then.

'I Was a Shell-Counter In Quemoy'

Another odd and interesting occupation must be added to sponge-fishing, tea-tasting and mattress-demonstrating.

In and about Quemoy, the beleaguered island in the Straits of Taiwan, there are human beings who count shells as they are lobbed from gun emplacements on the mainland into the confines of the island.

This terror-index, as it might be called, runs from 12,000 to 36,000 shells a day. It varies widely and lately comes only on odd-numbered days, but it reflects clearly the progress of the program to drive the human targets out of their minds and off the island.

So thoroughly systematic has the program become in its refinement of execution that the Red Chinese now help the Nationalist Chinese keep track of the bombardment by telling them how many shells have been fired up to, say, 4 p.m.

Not much is known yet about a shell-counter, other than the obvious requisite of steady nerves and good hearing. It seems probable, also, that a shell-counter should know how to operate an adding machine by the touch system, because even 12,000 shells a day (on odd-numbered days) would be more than eight shells a minute.

That would be too many to keep track of in the head, or even by making marks on paper; the paper might get blown away. It hardly needs to be pointed out that scouts for "What's My Line?" should be getting busy. The TV panelists never would guess a shell-counter from Quemoy.

Everybody Attended

Old-timers who can remember when football was played in semi-privacy and with good reason, because it rarely proved to be anything more than a shoving contest, are popt-eyed at the size of this year's football crowds.

Even high school teams whose coaches had to admit after the first game last September that they were "building for next year" have been filling their cash boxes. With the help of extraordinarily nice weather, and more of the same predicted for the rest of November, football is certain to break all attendance records.

It is like the little girl who had a party and everybody came. Baseball is like the less fortunate little girl who had a party and nobody came. Football never expected this kind of a turnout in 1958, a year that has been described by politicians out of power as a time of dark-gray sadness, with Americans mourning for their deceased hopes of a more abundant life.

Could it be that all those tens and hundreds of thousands of whooping fans who pack the stands from Friday afternoon to twilight on Sunday are these on passes, seeking shelter from the hammer blows of political adversity?

Leniency and Delinquents

The juvenile crime story is national in its dimensions, as everybody knows. But from time to time, we get special insights from dwelling on the experiences of particular places.

Lately Philadelphia has had a rash of brutal teen-age crimes, many involving beatings that have led to death for victims often elderly and helpless to defend themselves.

The mayor and the police chief are thoroughly aroused. They've cruised the city's worst trouble spots, seeking answers.

And Police Commissioner Gibbons has put his finger on one prime factor that looms in partial explanation. Thousands of potential thieves and murderers are loose on Philadelphia's streets because they go free in spite of innumerable arrests.

There, as in so many places, the notion took hold in a more innocent age that there was something different and special about offenders under 18 years of age.

Customarily, except in the rarest circumstances, they are put on probation or placed in their parent's custody after an arrest, even for crimes of violence. This is true even if they are chronic repeaters.

Examples: Recent arrests of a 17-year-old with 17 previous arrests, a 16-year-old with six prior arrests, one for murder, and a 15-year-old with four earlier arrests.

The acts these youngsters are committing are crimes. They are not less than that for having been done by youths under 18.

In certain categories of offenses, leniency for first offenders seems sensible. But not for brutal acts of violence. And surely not for persistent repeaters.

Rehabilitation of the young criminal is a worthy goal. But the streets of our cities and towns cannot be made into trial-and-error laboratories for this rehabilitation effort.

Any youth worker or agency which imagines freedom for the underage offender is more important to society than protection against his crimes simply doesn't grasp the meaning of law and order.

The law is every man's safeguard of his person and his rights. It cannot be adjourned while we experiment with twisted humans—of whatever age—who are killing, beating and robbing. Those who think it can have much to answer for.

It doesn't pay to have so much credit that you can't pay.

Dances are either formal or the young man wears his own clothes.

Everybody on TV should have learned a lesson from Fred Astaire's recent show. No battle for wows, no superduper ensembles, no obvious reaching for the sensational; just taste, talent and restraint.

Breaking it down, out of the 175 million, at least 25 million are gazing at excavation for new buildings, 20 million are bound either to or from quiz shows, 30 million are studying racing or market charts and the rest are in conference.

"You're Too Fat, Nikky"

Republican Ammunition

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democratic candidates undoubtedly gained many potential votes from the business recession. Now the Republicans are making campaign ammunition out of the recovery.

This is right and normal, politically speaking. If people blame the "ins" when things go wrong, the "ins" are entitled to claim credit when affairs right themselves.

The fact is however that politicians, policies and panaceas seem to have had little to do with either causing or curing the business slump. As the economic data accumulate, the 1957-58 recession looks more and more like a very ordinary swing and backsliding of the economic pendulum.

Far from being an unprecedented or rushing rebound, as some have described it, the recovery is a little behind schedule by comparison with the upturns from the earlier postwar slumps.

It has left a troublesome residue of unemployed, 4,100,000 of them, about 1 1/2 million more than a year ago. Unemployment never improves as rapidly as sales, output and total incomes.

But there is grist for the GOP speechmakers even here. It appears that this month will see industry absorb another 500,000 or so of the idle, roughly matching last month's good gain.

The official job report won't be ready before next Thursday or Friday, but there's every reason to expect that the administration will find a way to beat the glad news somehow before election day — probably in somebody's campaign speech this weekend.

That's what happened just before election day in 1954, in an almost identical recovery situation. Secretary of Commerce Weeks and Secretary of Labor Mitchell gave the news to reporters, after the Census Bureau's computers worked overtime to speed the tally.

Some of Weeks' aides protested when a newspaper accused him of leaking the news prematurely for political purposes. Weeks just grinned when someone showed him the criticism. "Well, we did, didn't we?" he chuckled.

Actually there are recent indications that rehiring will be about as rapid as it was after the 1953-54 and 1948-49 recessions, and possibly faster. (But then, as Democrats point out, employment went down farther and faster too.)

Factory hours of work already are almost back to the standard 40, which means that future gains in output will have to be accomplished by hiring men instead of just restoring part-time workers to full schedules.

Other barometers of recovery aren't quite up to pattern. Although the national production rate since spring has regained three fourths of the ground lost in the previous six months, in the two previous recessions it had climbed back all the way by this time.

The total incomes of Americans didn't sag badly, thanks largely to unemployment compensation and other built-in buffers. It has recovered a little faster than in 1949, not as rapidly as in 1954.

The recovery of retail sales is behind that in both the earlier recessions, after discounting for price advances. Last month sales stood at 96 per cent of the pre-recession peak. At the corresponding point in the 1954 recovery they were 106 per cent and in the 1949 upturn almost 110 per cent.

New orders at factories, while increasing as rapidly as they did in 1949, are behind 1954. Housing starts are a strong upward force but are less buoyant than in the other postwar recoveries.

The pattern strongly suggests that what President Eisenhower calls the "strong, sensible, constructive" policies of the administration didn't have much to do with the recovery; and by the same token, that things would not have been much farther advanced if some of the costlier but slow-acting "emergency" spending proposals of some Democrats in Congress had been adopted.

If I were running this country, I'd put up public billboards for political advertisements and tell campaigners to put up or shut up, meaning there would be a fine of $5 for every political poster tacked up on a utility pole or pasted on a light standard.

It amuses me that color-prejudiced football fans find it easy to forget their prejudice because a football helmet conceals most of its wearer's face.

What Is the Law Concerning Private Schools?

What is the "law of the land" about governmental aid to private schools in the form of a tax exemption?

Out in California today the people are voting on an amendment to the state constitution which would remove the tax exemption from the property of all private schools below the college level. Since the bulk of these institutions are Catholic, a bitter fight alleging religious persecution has ensued.

Most Protestant and Jewish groups are assailing the proposal. While the state would collect an additional four million dollars in taxes, it could cost the California taxpayers as a whole about 18 million dollars a year more to operate similar facilities.

Would the California provision be a violation of the 14th Amendment of the federal Constitution which says that no state shall take any action that denies anyone the "equal protection of the laws?"

So long as there are other non-profit institutions, such as hospitals or private colleges, which are to remain exempt from property taxes in California, it will naturally be contended that the proposed state prohibition is an arbitrary classification for tax purposes as well as a discrimination against certain private educational institutions.

COINCIDENTALLY, last week while President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon were taking particular pains to deny publicly any approval of the California proposal in the face of misrepresentations of their attitude, reported during the political campaign, the tax-exemption issue was being raised at the federal level in Washington.

This happened in connection with the operation of private schools by religious groups in Virginia and Arkansas.

Last Wednesday a United Press International dispatch appeared in the press telling of information obtained at the U.S. Internal Revenue Service which indicated that because children formerly in public schools were receiving instruction in classes being conducted on church property, the churches in question might be deprived of their federal tax exemption.

On Friday last the United Press International sent out the following dispatch dated Arlington, Va. "A segregationist group has charged that federal tax officials subjected Southern church leaders to 'propaganda, intimidation and coercion' by pointing out that churches used for schools could lose tax-exempt status. The Arlington chapter of Defenders of State Sovereignty and Individual Liberties demanded that the Internal Revenue Service identify the head of any IRS department which has any such tax denial exemption 'under active consideration.'

"IRS officials said Wednesday that churches might be risking their tax status under certain circumstances if they provide space for private classes in communities where public schools are closed to thwart integration.

"The officials commented in response to a reporter's questions. They said the issue had been raised informally, but they emphasized that no such case had been brought before them officially for a ruling."

But what would the ruling be if a case were actually brought by some interested group?

IN THE PAST many forms of government aid, whether federal or state, when given to religious schools, have been fought in the courts on the ground that they are a violation of the First Amendment to the Constitution.

This says that Congress shall not pass any law concerning the "establishment" of any religion. But the same amendment also says Congress shall make no law "prohibiting the free exercise" of one's religion.

For a federal agency, therefore, to deprive church schools of a tax exemption while permitting such exemption to other non-profit making organizations would surely be attacked in the courts as not only a discrimination as between private organizations but as revealing a hostility toward the "free exercise" of religion.

The federal government itself under a law passed in 1949 is today actually encouraging the operation of private schools irrespective of their religious teachings. From January 1 of this year through June 30, at least 80 free grants of federal surplus property, including land, buildings and equipment, have been made to private schools of a religious nature by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

THE ONLY stipulation in the law is that the recipient must be an educational institution in the tax-exemption category and this usually means it must be non-profit.

Has the federal government any right because it grants property or bestows a tax exemption to dictate what shall be taught or who shall be admitted to a religious school or any other private school?

If it did, then the federal government by using the threat of a withdrawal of the tax exemption could tell a trade association or a labor union how they shall choose their members.

The Supreme Court of the State of Wisconsin recently upheld the right of a labor union to bar Negroes from membership and so did a federal district judge in a similar case at Cleveland.

Girard College — a private institution in Philadelphia which receives a federal tax exemption — still is segregated and its right to continue segregated was upheld this year by a ruling of the Supreme Court of the United States.

Banks Fight Back

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Commercial banks are fighting back today at the wide spread charge that by helping the U.S. Treasury finance its 12 billion dollar deficit they will be feeding the fires of future monetary inflation.

The banks know that anything that might send the cost of living higher later on would be unpopular with the public. And they want to correct the notion they're a part of the act.

Actually, they say, they can't afford under today's credit policies to hold these short term government securities. So these bills and certificates are rapidly passing into the hands of corporations and others seeking to hold liquid funds.

Corporations favor them because rates are high enough of late to bring in attractive returns on idle funds, and the securities can be sold quickly when needed to pay taxes or other expenses.

The banks base their case on a U.S. Treasury survey of the ownership as of July 21 of the 67.8 billion dollars of marketable government securities due within one year. Federal Reserve Banks and U.S. government trust funds held 22.8 billion dollars of them. Less than one third of the remainder were held by commercial banks.

The charge is often made that the recent short term treasury financing will be inflationary because these securities are likely to be purchased by commercial banks with effects of increasing deposits and thus the money supply.

But the Federal Reserve's restrictive credit policy — higher charges, that banks must pay if they borrow from it, and keeping down the free reserves of banks — has worked against this. First it squeezed the banks' ability to buy and hold the securities. Second it produced higher interest rates which attracted outsiders.

The First National City Bank of New York says today: "What happened was that the banks initially took on the bulk of the new securities as underwriters. Pressures on their reserves forced them to sell off the securities as quickly as buyers could be found."

Grazier Amplifies Reasons For Plant Consolidation

Consolidation of general offices and kitchen manufacturing facilities of Youngstown Kitchens Division of American-Standard at the firm's plant at Warren is moving according to schedule, C. D. Alderman, Division president, said today.

Joseph A. Grazier, president of the American-Standard Corp., explained that "it is our intention to make the contract stamping operations in Salem a profitable one and we see no reason why it should not be done. It is our policy to expand profitable operations where and when it can be done on a sound basis, and that policy certainly applies to the Salem stamping operations.

"Just what it will mean in terms of employment in Salem in the coming years, I frankly cannot say."

Concerning the transfer of the Kitchens division to Salem, Mr. Grazier said, "We have been impressed by the sincere desire of the Salem community to have us keep our operations in Salem, and we deeply appreciate that feeling. But we must make the moves we have announced if the Youngstown Kitchens Division is to be profitable. An unprofitable division could not long be of benefit to any community."

"With consolidation required, we faced the question of where we should consolidate — in Warren or Salem. The answer was provided by our facilities in the respective communities. Our Warren plant provides many advantages over the Salem Kitchens plant. Office facilities were available at the Warren plant."

Transfer of the general offices, including administration, marketing, accounting and billing, from Salem to Warren was accomplished during the week of Oct. 27.

Production of Youngstown Kitchens wall cabinets, special-purpose cabinets and dishwashers, which involved transfer of a large quantity of manufacturing equipment from the Salem plant, is rapidly being integrated into the Warren operation.

The Division's contract stamping department remains in Salem.

red damask and gold, blazing with 350,000 electric light bulbs and flickering candles. The vast audience included prelates of the church, representatives of foreign governments, papal nobility—and simple priests, nuns and Romans.

President Eisenhower was represented by Secretary of Labor James Mitchell, Deputy Under-Secretary of State Robert Murphy, and Mrs. Clare Boothe Luce, former ambassador to Italy.

The impressive spectacle began with a long procession of prelates and nobles into the portico of the basilica. Purple-clad bearers carried the Pope, who sat on a portable throne.

The papal procession halted first at the chapel of the Holy Sacrament, where the Pope left his throne to pray. Then it moved to the chapel of St. Gregory where Pope John was invested with his coronation robes.

His hands were ceremoniously washed to symbolize spiritual cleansing and then he was vested for the solemn Pontifical mass.

As the procession moved toward the main altar, flax was burned three times before the Pope to remind him of the passing glory of the world.

At the main altar of the basilica, the Pope opened the solemn high Pontifical Mass, sitting on his white and gold throne under St. Peter's chair.

At the conclusion of the mass, he was escorted to elevator to be raised to the balcony overlooking the square. Then came the final act of coronation and the blessing to the world.

Reds Claim Chiang Using Poison Gas

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Communist China today accused the Nationalist garrison on Quemoy of firing poison gas at the Chinese mainland.

The Nationalists denied their forces were using gas and in turn accused the Communists of laying the propaganda groundwork to use poison gas themselves.

The Communists claimed the gas attack occurred during Monday's blazing artillery duel during which the Reds pounded Quemoy and its smaller neighbors with 39,162 shells in 18 hours. The firing subsided at midnight and the Quemoy area was reported quiet today — an even-numbered day of the month on which the Communists are pledged not to attack landing areas.

Peiping radio claimed 14 Communist troops were "affected" by the alleged gas attack and said: "Should the Kuomintang troops dare to continue to use poison gas shells, our troops will reply with severe punitive action."

Quoting a spokesman of the Red Defense ministry, the broadcast said: "The Chinese People's Liberation Army expressed the greatest anger over this crime of the United States and of the Kuomintang (Nationalist) troops."

The broadcast in effect accused the United States of cooperating in the alleged gas attack, declaring that it had come after the meeting of Secretary of State Dulles with President Chiang Kai-shek and after "the supply of large amounts of ammunition by the United States to the Chiang troops."

Rear Adm. Liu Hoh-tu, chief Nationalist Defense Ministry spokesman, declared, "This claim is absolutely groundless."

"We have no such inhumane weapons in hand and the Americans have not given us such weapons," he said. "We have no intention to use such weapons in any further stage of the struggle of our people."

But he added that "we'll take other measures if the Communists resort to using poison gas." He said the Peiping warning is considered "a very serious indication that the enemy may be paving the way for adopting such inhumane weapons."

rates. Democrats were expected to eke out a net gain of from one to three in what might become some spectacular trading of state-house control by the two parties.

Democratic governors now outnumber Republicans 29-19.

Taking the spotlight was New York's battle of the millionaires, the effort of Republican Nelson Rockefeller to take the governorship away from Democrat Averell Harriman.

Rockefeller Has Edge

Rockefeller, a potential bidder for the 1960 Republican presidential nomination if he wins, was given a slight edge over Harriman in slight prevote canvasses. On the other hand, GOP Rep. Kenneth B. Keating appeared likely to trail Democrat Frank Hogan in the Senate race unless Rockefeller rolls up a Republican tide.

California's feuding Republicans seemed headed for a defeat that would sweep Sen. William F. Knowland, the party's candidate for governor, and Gov. Goodwin J. Knight, its senatorial nominee, out of political life. Knowland nudged Knight out of the governor's race and they have been shooting at each other since.

Democratic State Atty. Gen. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown was given long odds to beat Knowland. Knight was reported trailing Democratic Rep. Clair Engle in the senatorial race.

A loss of both the California governorship and the senatorial seat could set back the ambitions of Vice President Nixon to become the 1960 GOP presidential nominee. The ability of his home base of California to produce a majority for a Republican presidential candidate then would become suspect.

Future Could Be Clouded

Nixon's political future also could be clouded by a new rival in Rockefeller, if the latter wins. With Nixon doing most of the back-breaking campaigning for the Republicans, President Eisenhower put in selected licks at the Democrats in the final weeks before the election. He assailed them for what he termed harebrained spending schemes and labeled many of them as radicals and "gloomdoggiers."

Former President Truman carried the ball most of the time for the Democrats, blasting away at the Republican administration as incompetent and inept. Adlai E. Stevenson, twice the party's presidential nominee, joined in similar cannonading.

Twenty Republican Senate seats are at stake in the voting. The Democrats have 13 on the block, but are certain of holding on to those in Florida, Mississippi, North Carolina, Tennessee, Texas and Virginia. Among their other seven, they expected a heavy challenge only in Wisconsin.

Republicans, on the other hand, might lose Senate seats in California, Connecticut, Indiana, Michigan, Pennsylvania and two in West Virginia. They are fearful too of what might happen to their candidates in Arizona, Minnesota, Nevada and New York.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D.D.

The hunting season is interesting scores of Americans. In fact, there are so many hunters and such a limited quantity of game that limitations must be placed on the amount of game which can be taken by a hunter. This limitation is made further necessary by the selfishness of some who would deplete the wild life population.

Many limitations must be established because of human greed. Even the harvesting of wild rice in Minnesota is limited to a season of days and to methods of gathering this wild seed.

If man could curb his greed in accord with God's teaching there would not need to be so many man-made limitations established by laws. Laws and penalties result from uncurbed greed and human sin.

Quakers Ranked 18th In State Associated Press Poll

East Palestine Rated 17th; Alliance Remains Top Team

Despite their convincing 45-20 win over East Liverpool last Friday, Earle Bruce's football Quakers dropped from 14th to 18th in this week's Associated Press poll of Ohio's football teams.

The Salemites garnered 31 points or six less than the total they accumulated last week. They rank one spot behind 17th rated East Palestine, the Tri-County League champion.

Youngstown East, who the Quakers nipped 19-18, dropped from the top ten down to 12th place while Brookfield, a 26-16 winner over the Red and Black, moved up from 24th to 21st.

Forty-six sports editors took part in this week's balloting, the largest turnout of the season thus far.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's sports writers balloted early this election day and again voted Alliance's Aviators the No. 1 high school football team in the state.

Changes were terrific as 46 scribes participated in the weekly Associated Press poll.

Second place Warren Harding, eighth-place Canton Central and tenth-ranked Youngstown East dropped from the select list. Dayton Fairmont, Portsmouth and Toledo Central Catholic moved in.

Alliance paced Warren by only seven poll points a week ago, but the Black Panthers were stunned

Buckeye League title and their 12th since 1937.

Halfback Ed Ulmer of Brookfield (Trumbull County) may be the heir apparent to the state scoring crown. Going into this week's game against Hubbard he has 132 points—just four shy of Painesville Harvey's John Mummey, the 1957 champ, who may be out the rest of the way with injuries.

Warren's offense, slowed drastically since the 8-0 loss to Canton Central, almost came to a halt against Lorain. The losing Panthers were held to 29 yards rushing.

Mel Knowlton, Alliance mentor, was Paul Brown's first quarterback when the latter coached at Massillon in the early 1930's. As Mel won his 84th game, a new coaching record, by 40-0 over Youngstown North Friday, he received a congratulatory wire from his old teacher.

Mansfield's Don Tagsdale ran 181 yards in 22 tries in the 20-14 win over Canton McKinley. Galloway has been beaten in 19 games, and the 8-6 nod over Bucyrus gave the team its second straight Northern Ohio League title. Gary High of Millersburg scored on runs of 11, 70, 42 and 8 yards in the 37-6 win over Loudonville.

The weekend's No. 1 boy, however, probably was Halfback John Hise of Portsmouth's once-beaten Trojans. Johnny scored on runs of 45, 65, 46 and 20 yards, and took a 12-yard pass for a touchdown, as Portsmouth rolled over Hamilton 43-12. He leads the Greater Ohio League scorers with 94 points.

Lorain (6-2) and Elyria (7-1) meet Friday in the 65th game of a series started in 1894. Lorain leads with 41 wins, 20 losses and 3 tied.

Marion Harding may not win the state title, but Coach Gordon Larson's unbeaten bunch exploded for 20 points in the third period for a 40-6 win over Fremont to clinch a share of the Buckeye Conference laurels. Fremont's score came on a 95-yard jaunt by John Nighswander.

Kent Malloy, Salem quarterback, completed 7 of 10 passes for 202 yards and three touchdowns in the 45-20 win over East Liverpool. Springfield Catholic's victory over Middletown Fenwick was its 15th straight, seven this year. Gibsonburg, smallest school in the seven-team Sandusky Bay loop, defeated Fremont St. Joe 25-13 to win the crown with a 3-0-1 mark.

35 Candidates Report For 1st Court Practice

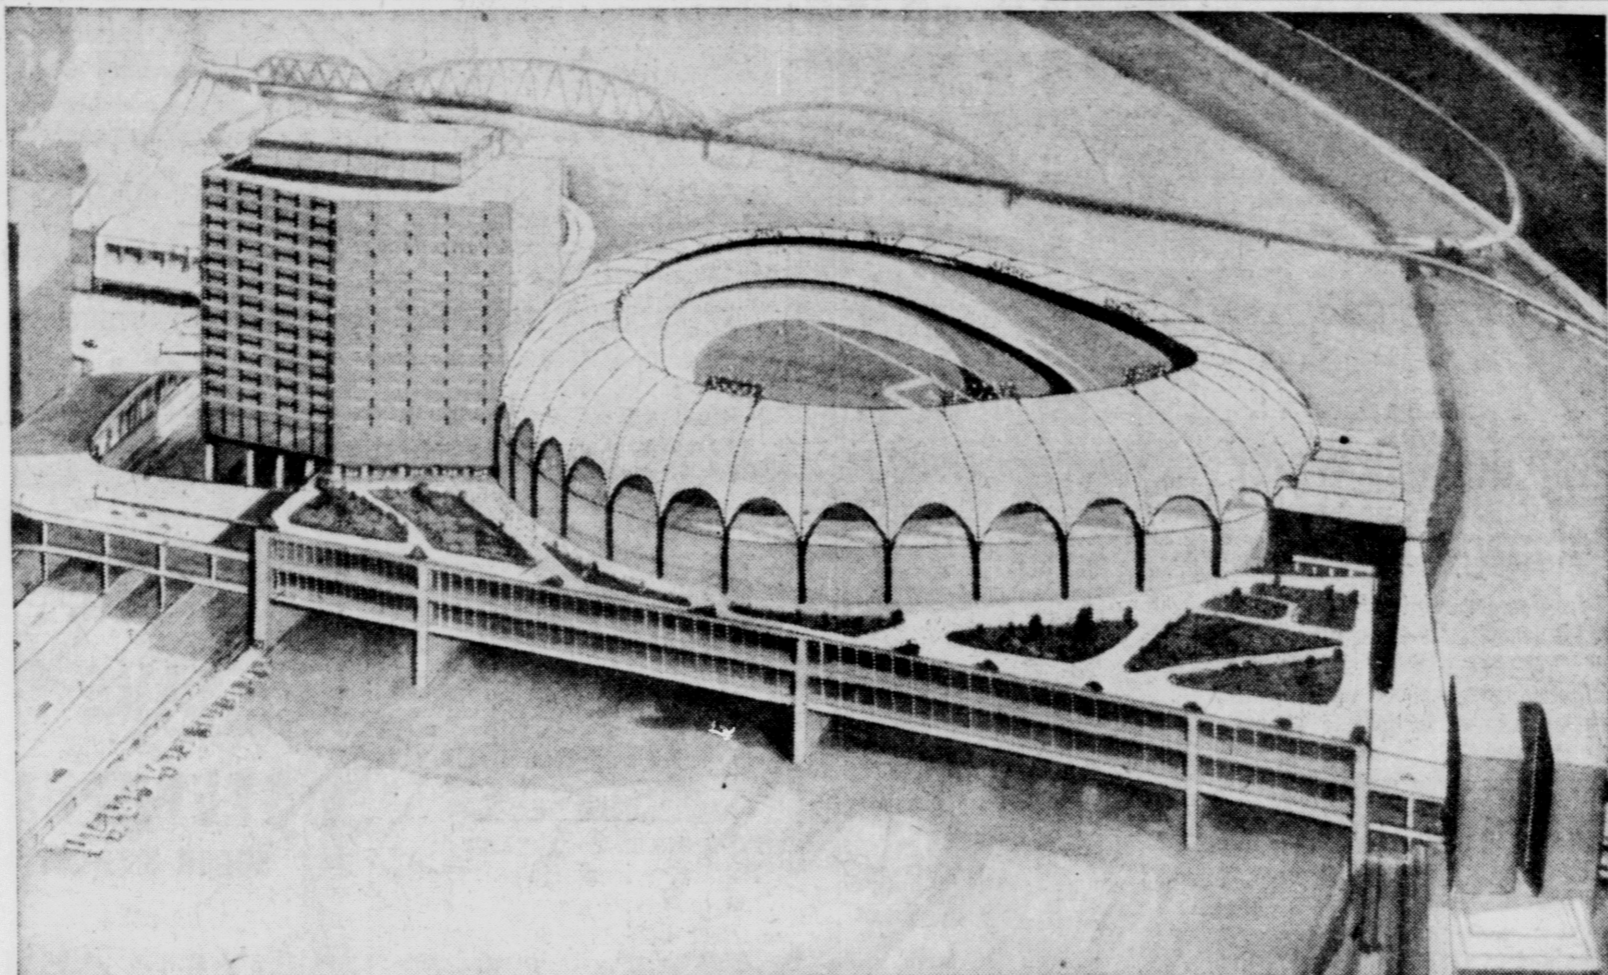

Mr. Basketball sneaked into Salem's scholastic sports scene Monday when 35 candidates reported for the first cage practice of the 1958-59 season.

John Cabas will be starting his 10th year at the helm of the Quaker cagers. His record is 109-47.

The squad will have seven veterans returning from last year's team which was 20-1 and which ended in fifth place in the state AP poll.

Yesterday's practice consisted of three-man passing and shooting drills and the showing of fundamentals to all newcomers.

The first game is at home Dec. 9 against Struthers. The Quakers will play 13 of their 18 regular season games here.

Salem to Battle Leetonia Friday In 24th Renewal of Long Series

By GORDON ARNDT

A 52-year old rivalry will be renewed Friday night at Reilly Stadium when the Salem Quakers ring down the curtain on the 1958 season against the neighboring Leetonia Bears.

The clubs have met 23 times since 1906 with Salem holding an overwhelming margin of 18-4-1. There was a 0-0 game in 1941. Salem defeated Leetonia 27-0 last year. It was the first meeting

Ninowski Is Readied For Game With Lions

CLEVELAND (AP) — Jim Ninowski, the Cleveland Browns' rookie quarterback, may be getting ready to give up his seat on the bench to Milt Plum.

Coach Paul Brown talks as though he is thinking along those lines for the Sunday game here with the Detroit Lions. Plum had a bad day passing last week when the New York Giants toppled Cleveland from the unbeaten list with a 21-17 victory.

The former Penn State star completed only four of 14 attempts against the Giants, who stacked their line to stop the power running of Jim Brown.

It left the Giants vulnerable to passing. "Our pass offense was poor," said Brown. "You just have to look at the figures to see that."

"We didn't hit men in the open and we didn't throw straight."

Brown also expressed concern over Plum's apparent "indecision," indicating he had hesitated long enough so that the Giants' defenders could cover Cleveland receivers.

You never know what a newcomer like Ninowski will do, Brown said, and added that the ex-Michigan State ace throws "with more dispatch" and has a "quicker release" in tossing his passes.

"Before the season began, the possibility of Jim taking Milt out of there was discussed," Brown declared.

Ninowski has seen little action for the Browns, mostly in the final minutes of a couple of games Cleveland won handily.

Despite the poor passing, Brown doesn't put the entire blame for the loss to the Giants on a weak air arm.

"The Giants tackled well and we did a poor job," Brown said in simple explanation. "We tried hard, but just couldn't seem to get into the spirit of the occasion." "Maybe we needed a licking," he added. "A licking does a team good every once in a while."

WARRANTS ISSUED
PAINTSVILLE, Ky. (AP) — County Judge Bill Ward issued breach of peace warrants for some Halloween pranksters he said carried things too far. Ward said several youths, none younger than 18, set up roadblocks, then tossed rocks and cans at the stopped vehicles, breaking out about six windshields and sending one man to a hospital.

since 1947.

Leetonia has not scored on Salem in 13 years. The last time was in 1945 when the Bears won 27-0. That contest and the scoreless tie are the only two games in which Salem has never tallied against the Bears.

Meanwhile, of the Quakers' 18 wins, 13 have been via the shutout route.

In total scoring for the 23 games, Salem holds a lopsided lead of 533-103.

Between 1933 and 1945 Salem beat Leetonia only once in five games. Leetonia won three times with the tie coming in this span.

ON THE OTHER hand between 1906 and 1933 Salem beat Leetonia 14 out of 15 times. The lone loss for Salem in these 27 years was 14 out of 15 times. The lone loss for Salem in these 27 years was 7-6 in 1924.

The worst Leetonia ever beat Salem was 27-0 in 1945. The most lopsided Salem win was in 1930 when the Quakers won 95-0. In 1926 Salem defeated Leetonia 66-0.

Between 1925 and 1941 in nine games Leetonia managed but six points against Salem while the Quakers totaled 307.

Salem has won the last three games. It was 13-0 in 1946, 33-0 in 1947 and 27-0 last season.

Leetonia currently has a 4-3-1 record while Salem is 6-2. The clubs have not met a common opponent this season.

The Bears have scored 165 points this year to their opponents' 166 while Salem's total scoring is 228-91.

LEETONIA lost twice and was tied once in their first four games but have won three of the last four. Salem has won their last four in succession.

Ohio State's Rushing Offense Preps for Saturday's Contest

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State's rushing offense, thrown into low gear by Wisconsin and Northwestern, bangs into its toughest opposition Saturday against Purdue.

The Bucks went 166 yards on the ground against the Wildcats Saturday, but lost 21 to 0. The rushing assault is the big Buckeye weapon.

Now comes Purdue, which allowed Nebraska 49 yards, Rice 47, Michigan State 38 and Illinois 33 on ball - totting attempts. Notre Dame was held to 108 and only Wisconsin, with 211, has been able to puncture the 205-average boiler-maker line.

Purdue could be celebrating homecoming this week in the Ohio Stadium, for 14 of the 33 on the traveling squad are transplanted Buckeyes. Six are on the first team. They've helped the Boiler-makers to a 5-1 record, and they still have a chance at the Rose Bowl.

Coach Woody Hayes, admitting the weekend at Northwestern "was not a particularly good game for us," tagged Purdue as a rugged opponent and then added:

"Of the last 15 games we've won 13 tied one and lost one. We have to get back on the victory trail, and it might as well be this week."

His first move was to send Dan James, 248-pound Cincinnati, in to the starting left guard spot which has been held all season by sophomore Oscar Hauer of Hamilton. Hauer has gone all the way in at least three games.

Woody also said Monday he'd held their places on top of the weekly Associated Press football ranking poll today, but after that it was a case of anything — and anyone—goes.

Ohio State and Colorado went clear out of the top 10 after last Saturday's lickings. Auburn, barely victorious, went down a notch to make room for astounding Northwestern, Mississippi, after losing for the first time, dropped three places.

LSU, one of two unbeaten and untied major college teams, maintained its slender lead over onced Iowa in the balloting of 165 sports writers and broadcasters by a margin of 1,443 points to 1,379. The Tigers from Louisiana drew 82 first-place votes and Iowa's Hawkeyes 54.

Army, the leader two weeks ago before it was tied by Pittsburgh, was named first on only seven ballots, but piled up 1,105 points for third place.

Points are counted on the basis of 10 for each first-place vote, 9 for second, etc.

The first three places continued to reflect the results. LSU conquered Mississippi 14-0 in their struggle for the Southeastern Conference lead. Iowa routed Michigan 37-14 and Army ran over helpless Colgate 68-6.

An even sharper reflection of results gave Northwestern fourth place by a bare three points over Auburn. Northwestern's Wildcats, who had dropped out of the top 10 after losing to Iowa, beat Ohio State for the first time in 10 years, 21-0. Auburn just scratched out a 6-5 decision over Florida.

Ohio State, rated fifth a week ago, dropped clear to 16th after its defeat. Mississippi dropped from sixth to ninth after losing to the leaders. Colorado, a 23-7 victim of Oklahoma, fell from ninth in the ranking clear out of sight.

Barberton's George Izo to Start For Notre Dame Against Pitt

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—George Izo, Notre Dame's newest football hero, is an exponent of wide-open play and that can mean a lot of trouble for Pitt, North Carolina, Iowa and Southern Cal.

Those are the four teams the new-look Irish will finish up against. And Izo, a 20-year-old junior quarterback from Barberton, Ohio, promises to dish out more of what Notre Dame used in whipping Navy 40-20.

Izo, who called his own plays against Navy in his first collegiate start, says: "We'll pass a lot more. By more passing, we'll open up our running attack and the Navy game shows our offense has reached its potential. Even the linemen like the open style of play. It's easier on them."

Against Navy, Izo completed 9 of 16 passes for 181 yards and 3 touchdowns. At the same time, Notre Dame's ground game clicked for 222 yards.

As a sophomore last year, Izo played 111 minutes and was used as Bob Williams' understudy. The Barberton bomber completed 17 of 37 passes in 1957 for 367 yards and 3 touchdowns.

Before the 1958 season, Coach Terry Brennan promised Notre Dame would open up its style of play.

But the Irish didn't and were hard pressed in beating Indiana 18-0. Izo injured an ankle in that game and retired into obscurity as Notre Dame beat Southern Methodist 14-6, lost to Army 14-2 and eked out a 9-7 victory over Duke. Purdue was next and the Irish found themselves trailing 26-7 after three quarters. Izo came on in
